2022/23 UEFA fair play competition – final rankings

Dear Sir or Madam,

We are pleased to inform you of the final UEFA fair play rankings for 2022/23, which are based on the fair play results obtained from all UEFA competition matches played at both club and national team level between 1 July 2022 and 30 June 2023.

Only associations that played a minimum of 43 matches have been taken into account. This cut-off point was obtained by dividing the total number of UEFA matches by the number of participating UEFA member associations.

As defined in paragraph 12.01 of the UEFA Fair Play Regulations, awards are given to the highest-ranked associations in the following three categories:

- Overall fair play
- Improvement in overall fair play score from one season to the next
- Behaviour of spectators

The winning associations in each of the three categories will be awarded €50,000 each to donate to the amateur or professional club of their choice for a fair play or respect-themed project.

The results are as follows:

- Overall fair play: Finland with 8.555 points.
- Improvement in overall fair play score from one season to the next: Spain progressing from 8.073 points in 2021/22 to 8.437 points in 2022/23 (+0.364 points).
- Behaviour of spectators: Lithuania with 9.153 points.

Each of the winning associations is invited to send the name of its selected club, along with details of the project to which the prize money will be allocated, to delegate@uefa.ch. Following an assessment of the proposed projects, the prize money will be credited to the winning associations' accounts.

Yours faithfully,

UEFA

Theodore Theodoridis
General Secretary
